

open the front window cried loudly for help. Policeman Anson, of the Fifth avenue station, answered her summons. When he arrived, closely followed by two other officers, the burglar had made good his escape.

The Victim Unconscious.
When Surgeon Spence, of the Seney Hospital, arrived in answer to an ambulance call sent by the police, he found Mr. Morris unconscious and bleeding heavily from the head wound.

His skull was slightly fractured from the blow of the pistol and at first it was believed that his condition was critical. A search of the premises revealed the chloroform-soaked handkerchief on the bed and the bullet, which had been shot from a .44-caliber revolver.

On the stairs in the hallway the policeman found a dark lantern lighted, and in the basement a twenty-nine jimmy.

The burglar had forced an entrance in the house through the rear apartment window, which he had evidently pried open with the jimmy.

The police believe the man was under the impression that Mr. Morris carried large sums of money to both the Seney Hospital and the Seney Hotel, and that the burglary was well planned. The man evidently was thoroughly acquainted with the house, and he went straight to Mr. Morris's room.

Mr. Morris was lying in bed, with his head and right arm raised, when an "Evening World" reporter called this morning.

He had felt well, and expected to be about again in the course of a week or two.

Wound Not Serious.
The wound in his thigh is not serious. Mr. Morris says an Indian bullet passed through the fleshy part of the limb. Both Mr. Morris's daughter and his sister were thoroughly recovered from their shock and were about the house today.

The bullet wound is in Mr. Morris's left thigh. The attending physician says that had the bullet struck a half inch more to the right it would have proved fatal.

Detectives McCormick and Dermody, of the Fifth avenue station, are working on the case. They have been advised by the man furnished by Mr. Morris, who says the burglar was a colored man, about 25 years of age, and was wearing a "gentleman's" suit.

A man who was returning from New York at the time of the shooting says he saw a man in a light overcoat running toward the Seney Hospital.

The fact that the man worked without a "tail" and his refined appearance, caused the detective to believe that he had no ordinary criminal to cope with.

Mr. Morris Chloroform-Proof.
A strange feature about the case is that the burglar would not use chloroform. Circumstances have been successful in his design without much trouble.

Mr. Morris is susceptible to the narcotic influence of chloroform. Several years ago he went to a dentist to have a tooth extracted. He did not care to take gas, and had chloroform administered instead.

When he found the effects of the liquid could deaden his nerves in the slightest degree.

Word was sent to Police Headquarters this morning that a man was under arrest in the Atlantic avenue station on suspicion of Mr. Morris's early morning visit.

The man is John Kreth, aged twenty-five. He was arrested by Police Officer Gowan at Ralph avenue and Fulton street.

The man's description tallies with that given to the police by Mr. Morris as the burglar. He wore a light overcoat, and when arrested was found lounging on the corner.

The prisoner was sent to Raymond Street Jail, by Justice Connolly, in the Gates Avenue Police Court, where he was held until Detective Dermody and McCormick arrived to take him before Mr. Morris for identification.

Kreth, who had not been in bed during the night, says he lives with his brother, who says he was not seen for many weeks of this morning, which may clear Kreth. An examination of the ground in the rear of the house revealed a footprint in the mud, at the bottom of the yard fence, which given the size of the shoe worn by the burglar.

Kreth said that he is employed as a fish man in New York.

NOTABLY GOOD CATCHES.
Some Unmarried Congressmen Who Would Make Fine Husbands.

Here is a chance for girls all over the Union. "The Sunday World" will publish an article about the unmarried men in Congress. These progressive and ambitious representatives of the people are good catches. Some of them may become President in the twentieth century.

There will be enough detail about their fortunes, prospects, professions, and so on, to give each woman a chance to select just the right kind of husband for herself. The pictures will be faithful reproductions, so that you can choose the one you consider handsomest.

ONE OF THE GOOD CATCHES.
It is hoped that the bachelor Congressmen will not get uneasy waiting in Washington for "The World" to reach them and for the mail from fair women next week.

ALL PLEAD NOT GUILTY.
Indicted Jersey City Officials Before Judge Lippincott.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., March 24.—The indicted Jersey City and Water Commissioners of this city appeared before Justice Lippincott this morning to plead to the indictments. The defendants are: J. P. Madden, William B. Cook, Stephen Yoe, Charles J. Somers and Edward A. Dugan. All of the five pleaded not guilty.

The five were each fined $100, and were held in $1,000 bail each, which was furnished by J. P. Madden, Hugh Dugan, Charles J. Somers and Stephen Yoe, and James C. Dugan.

No time was set for the trial. The defendants were indicted for conspiracy to defraud the Mayor and Board of Aldermen of the city.

Business Ups and Downs.
ROCHESTER, N. Y., March 24.—Twenty-nine men were sent to the State Prison for various crimes, and the wages of prisoners were down owing to a scarcity of work.

PAID, Pa., March 24.—The local factory owned by John E. Dugan, which has been idle for some time, will resume work Monday, giving employment to 100 hands. Six hundred miners who struck three weeks ago will also return to work.

PROVO, Utah, March 24.—The Provo Lumber Manufacturing and Building Company, one of the largest firms in the city, has received orders for the construction of the new Mormon temple. The firm is unable to borrow money to meet the large demands. The assets exceed the liabilities.

CINCINNATI, O., March 24.—The Bridgeport street car and trolley, which makes its rounds from 10th and 10th streets, has been broken down. The car is being repaired.

A WITNESS MISSING.

(Continued from First Page.)

laughing when he left the office for his home, a short time before the shooting.

One of the most valuable witnesses in the case is another office boy, who was employed by Ralph L. Waggoner, whose office is in the same floor as that of Madden. He is a native of New York, and his name is Frank Deninger, although he told the reporter his name was "Franklin" and again "Frederick."

He is two years older than Richard Burton and a different sort of a boy.

Early in the week Ward Detective Webb took young Deninger to Police Headquarters, where Sgt. Byrne put him through a long examination. To all inquiries about the young man made the detective replied: "I refuse to answer by advice of counsel."

Deninger was the first of the tenants who rushed in after the alarm was given, and that he picked up the money from beside the pros- trate body of Miss Fuller and laid it on Madden's desk. Deninger admits he did so. He also says that Madden faced up and down the floor in an excited manner and begged Lawyer Riley not to leave him there alone.

EIGHTEEN AND A FORGER.
Young Thomas O'Connor, When Arraigned, Pleads Guilty.

Thomas O'Connor, an innocent-looking youth, eighteen years of age, of 43 Columbus avenue, was arraigned in the Yorkville Police Court today and pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery. He is an orphan and lives with his aunt, Mrs. Muldoon.

He was formerly employed as a plumber's helper for a man named Connolly, of Thirty-second street and Sixth avenue, but of late has been sweeping out the real estate office of Frederick C. O'Connor, then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

On or about Feb. 12 a check for $100 came through the bank the night after O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

OVER A CORPSE TO STEAL.

(Continued from First Page.)

Robert Walsh Accused of Taking a Dead Friend's Money.

Charged with Stepping Over the Body to Get $300.

A charge of stealing money from a dead friend was made in the Yorkville Police Court today against Robert Walsh, formerly a commercial traveler, but now out of work, who gives his residence as 218 East Forty-third street.

The complaint was the widow of Patrick Burns, who, until his death on Feb. 4, ran a liquor store at Eighteenth street and First avenue.

A year Burns had apparently no more interest in the Burns home. The latter was out of work the season before, and when Burns died suddenly on Feb. 4, Walsh was promptly on hand to mourn.

He assisted in preparing the body for burial. While Mrs. Burns was out he is accused of stepping over the body to a closet where he knew money was kept and taking from a drawer there $300 in cash.

The money was not missed until after the funeral, and then Mrs. Burns was at a loss to account for the theft. Walsh denied the charge, but the jury found him guilty.

He was sentenced to the House of Correction for three months.

He was formerly employed as a plumber's helper for a man named Connolly, of Thirty-second street and Sixth avenue, but of late has been sweeping out the real estate office of Frederick C. O'Connor, then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

On or about Feb. 12 a check for $100 came through the bank the night after O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

O'Connor then offered him a job of $100 a month to forge the signature of Fred C. O'Connor on a check for $100.

FOR THE KOSSUTH FUNERAL.

(Continued from First Page.)

More Than 6,000 Hungarians Already in Turin.

Bodies of the Dead Patriot's Wife and Daughter Exhumed.

THEIR, March 24.—The coffins containing the bodies of the wife and daughter of Louis Kossuth were exhumed yesterday from the English Cemetery at Genoa, and accompanied by Count Karolyi, arrived here this morning.

The two coffins, which were covered with flowers, were met at the railroad depot by the sons of the dead patriot, Louis and Theodore, who followed the bodies to the cemetery, where they will remain until removed, with the body of Kossuth, to Buda-Pesth, on Wednesday next.

It is estimated that 6,000 Hungarians have gathered in this city en masse to pay their last respects to the National hero, and every arriving train swells the number of Hungarians who have come to Turin in order to take part in the funeral.

"THE KING SHOULD MOURN."
So Shouted a Crowd That Tried to Cross to the Royal Palace.

BUDA-PESTH, March 24.—During the night the authorities received information that the students and their supporters intended to cross the river to Buda for the purpose of hoisting a flag on the palace of the King of Hungary.

The King's Palace, or royal palace, stands but a short distance south of one of the two great bridges which span the Danube from Pesth. The approaches to this bridge and the bridge itself were occupied by a strong force of cavalry under orders to prevent any crowd from passing over. The Margarethen Bridge, a considerable distance up the river, was also guarded.

Measures were taken to prevent the mob from crossing the river in boats, and in addition to these precautions, troops were stationed everywhere about the grounds surrounding the palace.

Late at night a crowd proceeded to the Margarethen Bridge, and the crowd was turned back by the cavalry, without much trouble. Some of the mob shouted: "The King should also mourn," showing that the intention of the crowd to proceed to the palace and hoist a mourning emblem.

MRS. FIELDING DROWNED.
Body of the Missing Oxford Woman Found To-Day.

LONDON, March 24.—The police of Oxford have solved the mystery of the disappearance of the Mrs. Fielding, who was missing since Monday last.

The body of Mrs. Fielding was found to-day in the River Cherwell, and there seems little doubt that she committed suicide.

When last seen Mrs. Fielding was strolling in the direction of the University Park. She had been much depressed through the loss of her husband, the Rev. Charles Fielding, uncle of the Earl of Denbigh.

Senator Colquhoun's Condition.
WASHINGTON, March 24.—Senator Colquhoun's condition this morning shows no improvement. He is still in a critical condition, and his recovery is still uncertain.

No Clue in the Susie Martin Case.
Detectives who are still at work in the case of the missing girl, Susie Martin, said today that no clue has been discovered to give hope for the immediate solving of the mystery.

Had Lead Pipe Wiped Up.
Two Men Arrested While Running from a Vacant House.

Joseph Reynolds, of 98 Macdonald street, and Thomas Jackson, of 18 Prince street, were held for examination in the Jefferson Market Police Court this morning.

Policeman Kelly, of the Market street station, saw them run out of a vacant house at 215 Third street, and they were both taken to the court.

Reynolds was charged with carrying a lead pipe, and Jackson with carrying a lead pipe.

Camfield's Case Seems Hopeless.
James Camfield, the Brooklyn reporter who was stricken blind on Thursday, reportedly from a dash from a trolley wire, was still unable to see on Friday morning.

He will be examined by specialists this afternoon, and it is thought his case is hopeless.

QUIET BUT STRONG MARKET.

(Continued from First Page.)

Distillers, Chicago Gas and Sugar Score Great Advances.

Bank Statement Shows a Big Increase in Cash.

The stock market this morning was quiet but very strong. The half holiday here and the fact that the London market will remain closed until Tuesday morning next tended to restrict operations.

The delay on the part of the President in acting on the Bland Reimbursement bill also prevents the leaders from branching out.

On the other hand, the recent decline in foreign exchange has prevented gold from being sold, and the trading element to hold on to their shares, which contributes to the strength of the market.

Distillers was the feature, rising 11-8 to 23-8, on the official announcement that the Trust has settled its differences with the American Distributing Company.

Richmond Terminal moved up to 71-8 on the heavy payments by holders under the reorganization scheme and the acceptance of the plan by the Louisville Southern.

The stock market continued quiet up to the close, but Chicago Gas, Sugar and American Tobacco scored further advances. The market was nominally 1 per cent. on call.

Foreign exchange closed weak at 4-8 1/2 for gold, and 4-8 1/2 for silver.

The bank statement shows an increase in cash of $2,000,000, and a decrease in loans of $1,000,000.

The closing quotations.

Stock	Open	High	Low	Close
Amer. Tob.	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Sugar	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Gas	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Oil	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Coal	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Iron	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Steel	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Copper	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Zinc	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Lead	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Tin	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Silver	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Gold	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Platinum	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Palladium	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Iridium	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Rhodium	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Osmium	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Selenium	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Tellurium	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Vanadium	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Chromium	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Manganese	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Nickel	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Cobalt	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Bismuth	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Antimony	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Arsenic	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Strontium	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Barium	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Calcium	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Magnesium	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2
Am. Potassium	23 1/2	24 1/2	23 1/2	24 1/2